DETAILED ACTION

Applicants' arguments, filed 06/23/10, have been fully considered. Rejections and/or objections not reiterated from previous office actions are hereby withdrawn. The following rejections and/or objections are either reiterated or newly applied. They constitute the complete set presently being applied to the instant application.

Applicant's request for reconsideration of the finality of the rejection of the last Office action is persuasive and, therefore, the finality of that action is withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary.

Claims 11-12 and 21-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cuttitta et al (US 5,460,801) in view of Pandurangi et al (J. Org. Chem. 1998, 63, 9019-9030).

Cuttitta et al discloses conjugating monoclonal antibodies with bombesin and to administer the compounds to treat small cell lung cancer in humans (col 2 lines 41-59). Bombesin is disclosed to be the most frequently produced peptide hormone associated with small cell lung cancer (col 1 lines 44-52).

Cuttitta et al does not disclose conjugating the bombesin with an aryl azide.

Pandurangi et al teaches the photoactivation of aryl azide compounds to produce singlet nitrenes for phototherapeutic uses (pg 9019 abstract and pg 9024 Discussion) where the wavelength to excite the compounds at 450 nm (pg 9024 Discussion and figs 4 and 5).

Pagndurangi et al does not disclose attaching a bombesin receptor binding molecule and does not disclose actual in vivo treatment.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to incorporate the active portion of the compounds in the secondary reference in place of the monoclonal antibodies of the primary reference, given the resulting conjugate would produce a receptor specific localization and provide therapeutic effect when the conjugate is photo activated to produce nitrenes as taught by the secondary reference. Further, where the purpose of the conjugate made obvious by the prior art is to provide a phototherapeutic effect at the bombesin receptor by activation aryl azides, it would be obvious to optimize the dosage to provide the optimal amount of conjugate at the receptor site such that the desired therapeutic effect occurs without excess in the system.

Conclusion

No claims allowed.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
